

PEDIE WOLFOND

BIOGRAPHY

---

Pedie Wolfond is part of the great modernist tradition of painting which gained momentum in the 1950's and was identified by New York critic Clement Greenberg as 'abstract expressionism'. Using thin washes of transparent acrylic glazes on unprimed canvas, Wolfond builds up layer after layer of colour to create paths of light within the painting. The viewer can enter into the painting through these passages of light and experience pure colour from their own personal viewpoint. Pedie Wolfond's work is featured in many corporate collections as well as private collections in Canada, England, France, Italy, Israel, Australia and the United States.

Pedie Wolfond has been exhibiting with Lonsdale Gallery since its inaugural exhibition in 1995.
